December 1 supplies of turkeys were 278 million pounds, down 82 million from a month earlier, according to the Crop Reporting Board. Last year at this time, holdings were 274 million pounds after a November decline of 69 million pounds. The 1959-63 average for December 1 is 253 million pounds and the average November reduction is 64 million pounds. Total poultry holdings were 390 million pounds compared with 419 million a year earlier and average December 1 stocks of 401 million pounds.

Frozen fruit holdings were 552 million pounds after a November decline of 30 million pounds. These stocks were 6 percent below a year earlier but 6 percent above average for the date. Frozen vegetable stocks moved up 30 million to 1,445 million pounds. This November gain was in contrast to the 12-million pound decline during November 1964 and the average decline of 18 million pounds.

Butter in storage on December 1 totaled 80 million pounds, down 45 million from a month earlier and 15 million pounds less than last year. Average December 1 stocks are 189 million pounds. American cheese stocks -- 296 million pounds -- compared with 293 million at this time last year and average December 1 stocks of 343 million pounds.

Shell egg holdings were 128 thousand cases after a November reduction of 106 thousand. Frozen egg holdings decreased 17 million pounds to 70 million. Holdings on December 1, 1964 were 69 million pounds and the average for the date is 80 million pounds.

Pork holdings moved up 8 million pounds to 134 million. During November 1964 a gain of 53 million pounds brought December 1 holdings to 275 million pounds. The average gain is 39 million pounds and average December 1 stocks are 206 million pounds.

Cooler and freezer stock changes

Stocks in cooler rooms decreased 335 million pounds during November to 4.0 billion on December 1. Decreases were in stocks of fresh fruits, dried and evaporated fruits, cheese, milk, eggs, and canned meats. Partially offsetting were gains in stocks of fresh vegetables, nuts, and meats. In freezer rooms, product weight decreased 158 million pounds to 3.8 billion. Gains in stocks of vegetables and meats did not offset declines in cream, butter, eggs, poultry, fruits, and juices.

Space Occupancy in Public Warehouses

Freezer space occupancy in public refrigerated warehouses decreased 2 points during November but occupancy of cooler space remained unchanged from the previous month. Freezer occupancy was 67 percent on December 1, compared with 69 the previous month and 76, the five-year average. Occupancy was lower than the previous month in all regions except the New England and Mountain, which were unchanged, and the West North Central, which showed a 1-point increase.

Occupancy of cooler rooms, at 55 percent, was the same as on November 1, but 5 points below average.

Dairy Products

Stocks of creamery butter decreased 45 million pounds during November and on December 1 totaled 80 million pounds -- down 16 percent from a year earlier. The December 1 inventory was less than one-half the 5-year average of 189 million pounds. Stocks declined during the month in all regions of the country.

American cheese holdings were 296 million pounds on December 1, compared with 293 million pounds the previous year and the average of 343 million pounds. Stocks were higher than a month earlier in the New England, South Atlantic, and Mountain Regions while all other areas had lower stocks.

Of the total stored, 12 million bushels were in controlled atmosphere rooms. Frozen fruit supplies were down to 552 million pounds on December 1, following reductions in stocks of all frozen fruits except apples and grapes. A year earlier, stocks were 586 million pounds and the average inventory is 519 million pounds. During November, stocks were reduced 30 million pounds. A year earlier holdings were reduced 22 million pounds and the average decline is 18 million pounds. December 1 frozen vegetable holdings were 1,445 million pounds, a record for the date and 109 million pounds greater than the previous record of 1,336 million on hand December 1, 1963. A year earlier holdings were 1,288 million and average is 1,175 million. Holdings increased 30 million pounds during November. Supplies of frozen vegetables were larger than the previous month in all regions. A year earlier, stocks were reduced 12 million pounds and the average change is a decline of 18 million.
